CALEDON PUBLIC LIBRARY RECEIVES $2,500 FROM THE FRANK COWAN COMPANY AND AN ADDITIONAL $250 FROM SECURE INSURANCE SOLUTIONS GROUP INC. FOR LOANABLE TECH KITS

Bolton, ON - Caledon Public Library (CPL) is excited to announce that customers will soon be able to borrow GoPros, Arduino and Raspberry Pi kits with the receipt of $2,500 from the Frank Cowan Company Home Town Program. Secure Insurance Solutions Group Inc. will also be contributing an additional $250 towards this initiative that will encourage discovery, innovation and creativity.

“Caledon Public Library has recently undertaken two technology audits; the Edge and Bridge toolkits, to identify any gaps in services to our community. Using these tools, we are able to align our current technology resources to community priorities and found two areas identified as high priority: multimedia production equipment such as digital cameras, and web development and coding software”, says Colleen Lipp, CEO and Chief Librarian of Caledon Public Library. “With the receipt of the funds from the Frank Cowan Company and Secure Insurance Solutions Group Inc., CPL will be able to add loanable technology to our library collection that the community can borrow to explore, learn, create and enhance their quality of life. “

GoPro cameras can be used for action, sports and travel photography. They are built with a rugged frame that’s smaller, waterproof, and virtually indestructible with up to three microphones for recording audio in different conditions. Arduino kits allow users to get started with coding and electronics in an easy hands-on way, while Raspberry Pi kits introduce digital learning in an intuitive way and enables people of all ages to explore computing, and to learn how to program.

“The addition of loanable tech kits like the Raspberry Pi and Arduino, as well as the GoPro kits are in direct support of the Library’s strategic plan to encourage discovery, innovation and creativity, as well as to provide technologies and tools that support digital literacy and invest in the citizens of our community,” added Caledon Public Library Board Chair, Janet Manning. “By offering access to technologies and resources that they may otherwise not be able to afford, this initiative will help to bridge the digital divide by giving citizens the opportunity to play, learn and explore new technologies, which in turn will help to build skills and knowledge that can be expanded into other aspects of their life such as school, careers and social inclusion.”
